The Intellectual and Leadership Center of the Air Force

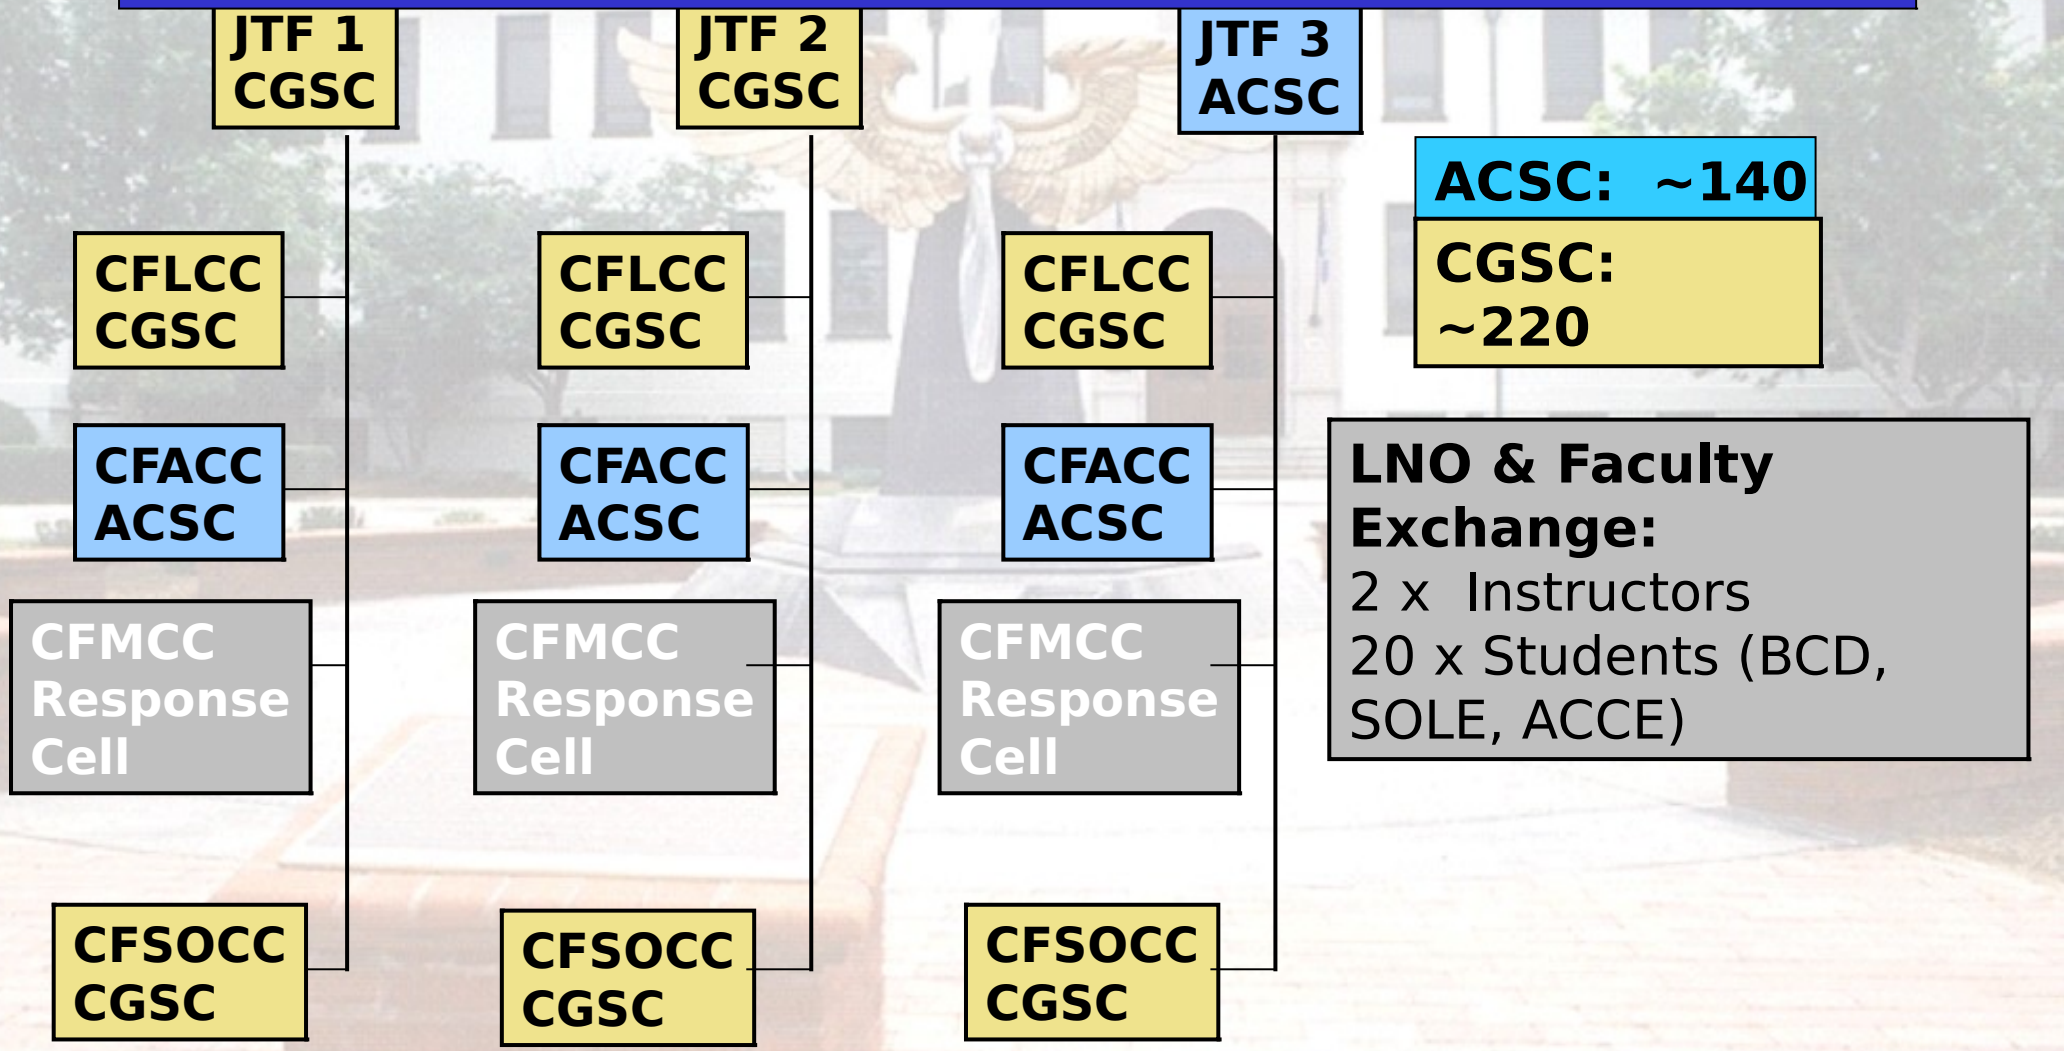
Brig Gen Jay Lindell
ACSC Commandant

Concept & Background

- Suggestion for ILE collaboration surfaced at Inter-service Training Summit (Feb 05)
- CGSC proposed a 1-week ILE Exercise:
  - Students simulate JTF & Component Headquarters
  - Collaborative, parallel planning exercise
  - Uses IWS, C2PC, and VTC
- Proof of Concept Exercise in March 06 was successful.
- Expanded exercise planned for March 07.

AY 07 Exercise Structure

A 5- day crisis action planning exercise set in the Caucasus (EUCOM) based on the Joint Operations Planning Process in JP 5-0.



ACSC: ~140

CGSC: ~220

LNO & Faculty Exchange:
2 x Instructors
20 x Students (BCD, SOLE, ACCE)

Why this is worth doing…

- Enhances the concept of joint interdependence
- Realism for students
  - Collaborative, parallel planning using real-world planning tools.
  - Student motivation is high
- Potentially a great capstone for all schools.
- Can help transform JPME
  - Opens lines of communication between ILE school faculty
  - Potential for sharing joint operations courseware and leveraging distinctive capabilities of each school

Way Ahead

- Continue evolutionary strategy—build on success
- Growth opportunities:
  - Expand ILE to include Navy and Marine Corps schools.
  - Expand participation among participating schools (joint capstone exercise?)
- Expanded JFCOM support necessary to sustain and grow the ILE exercise
  - IWS accounts and server time for the exercise
  - On-site training for IWS at participating ILE schools
  - Contractor support during the exercise
  - Funding for Instructor & Student TDY exchange
  - Senior Mentor Support
  - Honest broker—engagement with learning objectives

The Intellectual and Leadership Center of the Air Force

We Make A Difference …

One Student at a Time

One Faculty Member at a Time

One Idea at a Time